Dog handling, training, conditioning, competing and other such services can be dangerous to you and your dog. Please carefully read and understand the release of liability below.

We/I, the undersigned, hereby acknowledge we/I have voluntarily applied for dog owner/handler training, fitness, gym, or related services, conducted by Gone To The Dogs. We/I fully understand that such training and services pose numerous risks to the health and safety to myself and my dog. We/I freely and knowingly assume these risks, which include, but are not limited to, the following representative examples, which are not intended to be all-inclusive: the risks of the owner/handler being bitten, scratched, soiled, tripped, yanked, jerked, attacked, frightened, or otherwise injured by other dogs in the classes, or by the owner/handler's own dog; the risks of tripping over or slipping upon floor matting, dogs, or dog-training related objects, or slipping on dog drool or dog solid or liquid waste matter, or colliding with dogs, other human participants, dog training props, dog jumps, dog obstacles, dog gating or building parts, including but not limited to, walls, doors, and support beams. We/I do not hold Gone To The Dogs, its members, officers, agents trainers, and employees responsible for any damages, injuries, or liabilities caused by my/our animal. Also, We/I will not hold Gone To The Dogs, its members, officers, agents and employees legally or financially responsible for any injury to my dog or myself. I understand that I am responsible for my dog and its actions, and understand that the Colorado Dog Bite Law holds me responsible to pay compensation for any injuries sustained to any person other than the trainer.

I give Gone to the Dogs my permission to use any photos or videos of myself & my dog for marketing and/or training purposes.
